

HENDERSON GOLD LEAF

THURSDAY, NOV. 23, 1911.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS ITEMS.

The Oxford football team will play Henderson on the Lassiter field Saturday afternoon at 3:15.

Mrs. Allie P. Wilkinson has opened a school at Harris' Cross Roads. There are thirty-five pupils on roll.

Rev. C. E. Newman and family have moved into the White residence opposite the Henderson Christian church.

Policeman Langston made a good shot with a pistol one day last week. His dog set a bird and he killed it the first shot.

Rev. J. H. Spaulding preached to large congregations at Rock Springs Sunday morning and at North Henderson Baptist church Sunday night.

Work has begun on the new hospital for colored people, which is to be built back of the colored college. It will be a two-story brick building and will cost about $5,000.

Rev. W. M. Gilmore, of Atlanta, Ga., has accepted a call to the pastorate of the First Baptist church at Louisville, and preached his first sermon to that congregation last Sunday.

A thief broke into the Watkins Hardware Company's store Tuesday night and stole about ten or twelve pistols. He made his entrance to the store by breaking the lock and opening the back door.

Mr. H. G. Hester and Miss Winnie Clark, two well known young people of the Dabney section, were married Sunday, November 12th, by Rev. J. T. B. Hoover at his residence on North Garnett street.

Mr. N. M. Henderson, who underwent an operation at the Sarah Elizabeth Hospital several days ago, is recovering very rapidly and it is expected that he will be able to return home the latter part of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McCauley, who have been making their home in Henderson for the past three years, have moved to Durham. Mr. McCauley has been engineer in the Seaboard yards here, and is succeeded by Mr. Upchurch.

Mrs. William Ayseue, of North Henderson, died in Rex Hospital at Raleigh Saturday, after a long illness of typhoid fever. She was twenty-eight years of age and is survived by a husband and several children. The remains were buried at Littleton.

At a meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary at Holy Innocents Friday it was announced that thirty-five new members had joined the Auxiliary since its last meeting. There are now eighty-five names on the roll, and an effort is being made to make the membership number one hundred by the next meeting.

Little Florence Harvey Cheatham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Cheatham, of Franklinton, was christened a few days ago by her grandfather, Rev. W. W. Stanley, D. D. She wore a lace handkerchief, which her grandmother wore on her wedding day, and was baptized with water which Dr. Stanley brought from the Jordan River in 1896.

The Pastime is thoroughly crowded every night now. The management is giving away a turkey each night to the person holding the lucky number. Since Thanksgiving is now only one week off, a big fat turkey to be given away each night makes the popular Pastime doubly attractive. Sometimes standing room is at a premium.

Mrs. Panthia Boyd White, widow of Capt. Wallace White who died a few days ago at his home in this county, and her husband enjoyed quite a remarkably long married life together. It had been sixty-three years from the time of their marriage until Mr. White's death. Deceased was eighty-six years old, and Mrs. White is eighty-one.

The Civic League will meet at the courthouse Wednesday afternoon, November 29th, at 3 o'clock. The meeting will be an important one and every member is urged to be present. Rev. J. W. Morgan, who attended the National Municipal League at Richmond last week, will meet with the league and make a talk on what was done in the meeting at Richmond. All the ladies of the town are invited to this meeting.

Rev. C. E. Newman filled his first appointment of the conference year at Liberty church Sunday morning and at Fuller's Chapel Sunday afternoon. At the morning services the congregation at Liberty made a special offering of $15.50 to aid Mt. Gilead mission point in securing a pastor for this year. There were unusually large congregations present at both of these services.

Rev. L. W. Swope, of Louisville, has been called to the pastorate of the First Baptist church at Shelby. He is one of the strongest speakers in the Baptist denomination in the State, is an untiring worker and is brim full of the evangelistic spirit. His health has not been what it should be at Louisville and when sounded on the matter of a change, he spoke favorably because of the fact that he wants a higher altitude.

Friends in the city have received the following invitations: "Mr. and Mrs. Madison Alexander Cooper request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Lucile, to Mr. Walter Garner Lacy on the evening of Wednesday, the twenty-ninth of November at 8 o'clock in St. Paul's Episcopal church at Waco, Texas." Miss Cooper has many relatives and friends in Henderson who will be interested in the announcement of her approaching marriage.

The beautiful diamond-set gold watch that is to be given as the fourth prize in the Gold Leaf's big subscription contest may now be seen at the Gold Leaf office, and all contestants and friends of the paper are most cordially invited to call and see it. This is a prize of which any lady might be justly proud of winning and wearing. The bed-room suit and sideboard are now expected to arrive at any time and will at once be placed on display at some convenient place where all can inspect them.

The services Sunday at the Methodist Episcopal churches marked the close of the church year and the ministers and delegates have gone to Kingston to attend the annual conference. Rev. W. R. Royall and Rev. S. J. Kilpatrick have been serving the Henderson, North and South Henderson churches the past year, this being their first year at these charges. There has been the greatest satisfaction with their ministries and their congregations are hoping to have them returned.

The United States District Court will convene at Raleigh on the eighteenth day of December. Judge Henry G. Connor will preside. The session of the court was postponed from November as Judge Connor was called to Richmond as a member of the Court of Appeals and the dates conflicted. Cases from Durham, Granville, Person, Franklin and Vance will be called on Tuesday, December 19th. Cases from Warren county will be called on Friday, December 22nd. Mr. Judge H. Foster, of Henderson, R. F. D. No. 1, is a juror.

The Thompson Orphanage chapter of the Woman's Auxiliary of Holy Innocents gave a stocking shower one day last week at Mrs. Alex Cooper's. The Junior Auxiliary No. 3 were in the yard and the No. 2 Auxiliary served tea and cakes in the dining room. Mrs. S. P. Cooper and Mrs. W. D. Burwell poured tea at the tables. The receipts were 240 pairs of stockings valued at $40, which will be sent to the orphanage at Charlotte in the Thanksgiving box this week. The New Building Chapter at the last monthly meeting, which was held with Mrs. Alex Cooper, dropped $4.20 in the little pig. This will also go for the benefit of the orphanage.

The friends of the Gold Leaf are all invited to call at the Hughes-Smaw Furniture Company's store and see the fine Cote piano now on display there that is to be given away as the first prize in the Gold Leaf's big subscription contest. Everybody who has seen it has pronounced it "a beauty," and so it is. They will welcome all the friends of the Gold Leaf to their store and will take pleasure in showing them the piano. We also take special pleasure in this connection of calling the attention of the lady readers of the Gold Leaf to the advertisement of the Hughes-Smaw Furniture Company in this week's paper, and when you call to see the piano also ask them to show you the nice premium they are now offering to their lady customers.

Anybody can tell a lie, but it takes an expert to stick to it.

Business Locals.

Advertisements in this column are 25 cents for 25 words or less, and one cent per word for each additional word, strictly cash with order. No advertisement taken over telephone. These little ads are Business Builders.

I very thoroughly appreciate the patronage that has been extended me since reopening in business in Henderson again. I am regaining my health and hope to be able to serve my customers better than ever before.—A. W. Gholson, Watchmaker and Jeweler.

For Sale—1000 cords of oak and pine wood. Prices reasonable. Carlots only.—D. A. Burwell, Stovall, N. C.

Ice Factory Stock for sale; majority stock in the Henderson Ice and Cold Storage Co. Apply to C. H. Turner.

For Sale—Saw mill and French burr mill. I have no use for same.—Mrs. John MacMillan, R. F. D. No. 3, Henderson, N. C.

To Whom It May Concern: I have known and patronized Mr. A. W. Gholson for the past 15 years. I have always found his goods just as represented and I had one watch that he repaired for me to run nine years before it required repairing again. I think he is unquestionably a very capable watchmaker.

(REV.) J. W. PATTON, Elton College, N. C.

Valuable Farm for Sale.

Good church and school within half a mile. Well watered, modern conveniences, necessary farm buildings. MRS. CHAS. H. BUCHAN, Henderson, N. C., R. F. D. No. 3.

A SUNDAY NIGHT BURGLAR.

Negro Man Attempts to Enter the Home of Mr. J. M. Wolfe, But Is Frustrated in His Designs.

Last Sunday night about midnight a burglar attempted to enter the home of Mr. J. M. Wolfe, local manager of the Carolina Power & Light Company, but was frustrated in the attempt. He raised the window of the room in which the cook was sleeping and was in the act of crawling in when the cook gave a loud scream and aroused the family, at which the burglar jumped out at the window and ran.

The light was burning in the room at the time and the cook could plainly see that he was a negro, and she was able to give a pretty thorough description of him, even to the cap he wore. Mr. Wolfe and the police have since been on the lookout for the negro that fits the description given and it is hoped they will succeed in spotting him, for these burglaries have gone on only too long and too frequently in Henderson of late for none of these rascals to be caught.

Only about a week ago a negro man made an unusually bold dash into the private room of two well known young ladies of the city just about bed time and created no little consternation on their part. The police responded very promptly to the call, but as in every other case so far the burglar succeeded in making his escape.

Something to Think About.

The Progressive Farmer compresses a lot of wisdom into this sentence: "Cotton, nine cents a pound; hay, thirty dollars a ton. And yet the South insists in killing thirty dollar grass to make nine cent cotton! Mightn't it pay you to follow the example of the man we mentioned last week who quit cotton to grow hay—two and three tons to the acre and at one-fourth the labor cost of cotton growing."

You will never profit by your mistakes so long as you blame other people for them.
